JUOMAPOSTI-MAGAZINE AND MEDIA CHANNELS

Juomaposti is Finland's biggest and nicest media focusing on beverage and food culture. Our staff and journalists are the cream of the business and several industry influencers are on our team.

In our magazine, e-magazine, website and social media channels we produce content crossing cultural boundaries, reaching a wide readership, stories, people and quality first. We report the latest news on the beverage industry.

The magazine can be subscribed as a paper version delivered to your home, or as a digital publication on our app. Single issues can be purchased at Lehtipiste sales points or digitally on the Juomaposti app.

All subscribers have access to our back catalogue on the application all the way back to 2021. Ads on the digital platform work as hyperlinks straight to the advertiser's website or campaign site.

We also distribute Juomaposti for free at many industry events like beer festivals around Finland. The paper magazine is also delivered to all member of the Finnish Beer Society, our many partner restaurants and their customers, all the franchisers of the K-Citymarkets and K-Supermarkets, decision makers in the retail and restaurant industries, Alko stores all over Finland, beer bloggers and other industry influencers in Finland.

Our estimated readership per issue is estimated around 65 000-95 000 depending on season and the volume of the distribution at events. Our goal is to increase readership by investing on the digital magazine and distribution at industry specific events.

Juomaposti comes out four times per year, roughly February, June, September and November (see page 7).

Our website traffic is growing at an impressive pace. According to the latest statistics at the time of writing our website has 28 000 visitors per week. Our social media posts reach 70 000 to 90 000 readers and naturally we also have a Youtube with over 300 000 views at the time of writing. Our social media channels can also be used as highly targeted ad platforms, reaching the right customers easily and affordably.
